Michigan High Speed DSL Services

DSL is a high speed Internet connection delivered through your existing telephone line. It's easy to use, affordable, and reliable, and unlike dial-up you can surf the Internet and download at high speed while talking on the phone.

To get up and running, you'll simply need a high-speed modem, which we provide, and your regular phone line. (note: Your phone service must be with Cynergycomm.net)

With DSL you've got an instant connection with no dialing up or logging on ever required. Your DSL connection is always on at no additional cost to you.

Cynergycomm.net DSL is billed on a monthly basis, for a fixed price, and you get unlimited usage. In other words, whether you use it for email once a day, or you are a net addict and use it constantly, your bill is always the same.

Once you have a DSL line, you can use all the resources of the Internet in the same way as you did from a regular modem and a dial-up account. The difference is now you can use them 24 hours a day with no connection delay. You need not worry about busy signals or any connection/disconnection issues.

The key advantage of DSL over a dial-up modem is speed. DSL is from several to dozens of times faster than a modem connection. A complex web page that could take up to a minute to finish loading at 56K can appear in just seconds over DSL.
